ONLINE SAFETY - WHATSAPP

WhatsApp says the minimum age of use is 16, but many of our families allow much younger children to use this app - so what are the risks?

- Bullying, particularly in group chats
- Seeing content of a sexual nature, or showing violence and hatred.
- Threat to safety if your child shares their live location, particularly with people they don't know in person.
- Receiving spam or hoax messages
- Users who aren't in your child's contacts can see messages they post in the group, and your child will be able to see messages they post.

USE THE QR CODE TO FIND OUR GUIDE TO PUTTING PARENTAL CONTROLS ON WHATSAPP - however the safest option is not to let them have it at all! Children need time away from friends once the school day has ended & should be able to show maturity in real life relationships before being allowed to manage this in online spaces.
